

On Saturday, January 9th 2010, two Motec members, David Lewis and Steve Townsend, held a very successful Music Quiz in The Queen's Head public house in Sandridge, near St Albans. They posed tricky questions and music clips to a full house of all ages. A raffle supplemented the evening, with all the Raffle prizes being crafts bought in Ghana by members during Motec visits.

The quiz prizes were donated by the Pub, as was a splendid buffet, and the proprietors Sam and Sue even helped with marking the papers and making the raffle happen.

On the next available evening, David and Steve went to the pub to offer their grateful thanks and ended up joining the Pub team at their own regular quiz! The Pub team won and then very generously donated their prize money to add to that raised at the Music Quiz, making a grand total of £291.

The evening was such a success that the next one is already in the planning stages, watch this space!
